From, Robert De Vito, Preventive Medicine Officer

Re: National Catering Staff

Dear Rasim,

My name is Captain Robert De Vito; I am a Preventive Medicine Officer in the United States army. I have been in Taji Iraq for the past three months and have had the pleasure to work with your operations and quality control staff. During this time I have witnessed their commitment to the food service profession and for the Iraq Soldiers.

On many occasions I have worked side by side with your staff. They have accomplished their daily requirements as well as continue to work outside the scope of their job. They have resolved issues such as shortages of food due to the arrival of new Iraqi Soldiers with little to no notice, training of DFAC employees that have a ninety percent turnover rate, and have implemented a medical screening program for all DFAC employees. This commitment should not go without recognition.

I felt it necessary to inform you that it is my pleasure to work with a staff that continually demonstrates a high quality work ethic.

Very Truly yours,

Robert De Vito
Captain, USAR, MS
21 February 2005

To whom it may concern at National Catering:

Please be advised that Ali Mohammed Ahmed the chief appetizer and the rest of the staff at the Red DFAC including Ahmed Soltani are to be congratulated on the wonderful work that they have been providing both the Iraqi and Coalition forces of CMATT.

The Red DFAC is where we tend to host special lunches and dinners and the staff has not failed us yet. They always have a clean and delightful presentation of the dining area. But much more importantly the quality and the quantity as well as the variety of the food has been excellent. For many coalition forces this has been their first exposure to Iraqi food and they are so pleased that they would like to eat more.

These two individuals should be recognized for the excellent service and the quality of the product they provide. I would recommend providing some type of bonus or reward if at all possible.

Should you like to discuss this matter please contact me.

Respectfully,
